Dear Aunt Sara,

We were glad to receive your letter, but we are both sorry hands to write or would have answered sooner. There certainly has been a lot of sickness and deaths around here lately. My Aunt lost her baby last week. He was 17 months old. My children had quite a round of the flu, but are all well now. The measles are pretty bad here. There has been 2 or 3 deaths from them. Frankie and her family have been to stay all night with us since you were here, but I haven't seen Kate. We are going up there in a few days. Mr. McClary went to Texas last week. He is going to stay out there and farm this year. Yes, my chickens are large enough to eat but I couldn't keep them out of the neighbor's gardens so I had to take them out to the farm. We got along pretty good with our quilting. Have quilted five. We are going to make some more when we get caught up with our sewing and other work. I guess you are getting anxious to go home. We would be glad if you could visit us some more. Hope this finds you well. Answer soon. From Fannie McClary
